

Go dotty for the day

Raise awareness and celebrate the contribution Louis Braille has made to the lives of blind people. At school or work pay a small donation to wear dotty (polka dot) clothing, costumes or objects for a day. Organise your own Dotty Day and help RNIB support blind and partially sighted people.

It couldn't be easier:

- choose a date
- visit our website for more information rnib.org.uk/dottyday
- contact our fundraising team for support and fundraising materials
- spread the word – put up posters, send out emails, make an announcement, contact the local press
- hold your Dotty Day and collect donations
- thank everyone who has supported your Dotty Day
- send your donation to RNIB.

supporting blind and partially sighted people

Do more:

- make it competitive and award prizes for the most original outfit
- hold a dotty cake sale
- host a fashion show to showcase your dots.
